Eisenhower Calls $400 Million Slash 'Threat To U.S. Security'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday night a 400-million-dollar cut in foreign economic aid approved by the House "can be considered as no less than a threat to our nation's security and that of the free world."

The President spoke out shortly after the House voted 106-100 to slash the defense support of the mutual security program by that amount.

Eisenhower asked Congress for 900 million dollars in defense support economic aid. The Senate already voted to provide 800 million dollars.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee cut the administration request to 700 million dollars, and the House itself voted Wednesday to allow only 500 million.

In a statement Eisenhower urged the House to stand by the 300-million-dollar program approved by the Senate. Wednesday's House vote is subject to a later roll-call vote.

The House also handed the administration a setback when it refused a permanent authorization for military aid.

But the administration scored an important victory when the House turned down an amendment that would have asked Eisenhower to bar foreign trials of GIs.

The move, by Rep. Burleson (D-Tex.), was defeated in an unusual 134-134 tie on a teller vote, with the congressmen walking down the center aisle to be counted.

A majority vote was needed to make the change in language in the bill.

It would not have the force of law, but would have added the wording that it was "the sense of Congress" that the President revise "status-of-fores" agreements to give the United States exclusive jurisdiction over U.S. servicemen who commit offenses while on duty.

Heiress Plunges To Her Death From 28th Floor

NEW YORK (AP) — A 25-year-old Milwaukee heiress, granddaughter of a former governor of Wisconsin, plunged to her death Wednesday from the 28th-floor Park avenue penthouse.

"This is the only way out," Patricia E. Philipp wrote in a note she left behind. There was no explanation of what she was doing in the penthouse.

A 1951 debutante, she was a Vassar College graduate. Her father, Cyrus Philipp, is president of Milwaukee's Union Refrigerator Transit Co. and a former Republican national committeeman. His father, Emanuel, was a former Wisconsin governor.

For the past two months, Miss Philipp had worked as a secretary at a public relations firm. Acquaintances said they were unaware of any despondency on her part.

She lived at a Madison avenue address here.

The penthouse from which she plunged is a terraced suite atop a hotel at Park Ave. and 34th St. Her body landed on the roof of an adjoining seven-story building.

The penthouse is retained by a downtown investment and securities firm for the convenience of out-of-town guests.

To Stop Examiners Bilking Of Applicants For Driver's License

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter said Wednesday he has taken steps aimed at stamping out any attempts of driver's license examiners to extort money from applicants.

Carpenter said he received complaints during the past few days from numerous persons regarding "attempted or actual extortion by certain of our employees." But he said the communications were not signed and had little value.

Carpenter issued a statement after a conference with members of his office staff on drivers license examination procedures in Cook County. He said that "our continuing program of internal surveillance will be substantially increased immediately."

"I cannot stress too strongly," he added, "that unless we obtain the cooperation of honest citizens willing to report extortion attempts by our employees to us, we are severely handicapped in attempting to stamp out this evil."

"Our investigations constantly reveal the fact that applicants who have difficulty reading and writing English, and many with physical disabilities, offer to pay surprisingly large sums of money in order to avoid being examined. In the future it is our intention to cite such persons for possible grand jury action. In such cases we feel the person offering a bribe is as guilty as the employee who accepts it."

Carpenter issued orders for every employee of driver license stations to wear a badge with their name. In that way, he said, applicants could identify the examiner easily.

Carpenter said he also directed that no applicants are to be examined unless the person who drove them to the station produces a valid drivers license.

End Testimony In Hoffa Bribery, Conspiracy Trial

WASHINGTON, (AP) — James R. Hoffa testified Wednesday he never knew until after his arrest the night of March 13 that John Cye Cheasty had a job with the Senate Rackets Committee.

Attorneys will make their arguments to the jury of seven women and five men Thursday.

Troxell, cross-examining Hoffa, suggested the Midwest czar of the Teamsters Union wanted Cheasty to provide him information concerning what Teamster officials the committee intended to subpoena, when they would be asked to testify, and what they would be asked. "Is that correct?" Troxell asked.

"That is not," Hoffa replied. Hoffa repeatedly denied he knew about Cheasty's connection with the committee, and said he hired him for the sole purpose of assisting Hyman I. Fischbach, Miami lawyer, in connection with Teamster preparations for the racket hearings.

Fischbach went on trial jointly with Hoffa June 28 on charges of conspiring to plant Cheasty, New York lawyer-investigator, on the committee staff, then bribing him to feed them its secrets. Last week, however, Fischbach was granted a mistrial when his lawyer became ill. Fischbach is to be tried later.

No More Biking Boy Says After 3,600 Mile Trip

MILFORD, Conn. (AP) — John Wilkinson Jr., 14, pedaled into Milford Wednesday and said, "No more biking for a while."

He'd been on the road a month and three days—since June 14—and had covered an estimated 3,600 miles since leaving his parents' home in Los Angeles.

He came here to visit his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilkinson.

The 3,600-mile distance for the journey is John's estimate. He had a mileage indicator on his bike, but it broke down while he was crossing the Mojave Desert. He kept in touch with his parents and grandparents by telephone from time to time during the trip.

The boy gained two strong impressions from his trip: 1. Folks in the Middle West are "more friendly" than elsewhere in the country.

2. Bicycling in the East is "far worse" than in the West. Crossing the Rockies was "easy" compared with the steep grades he encountered in West Virginia and Maryland.

For three weeks he's going to do nothing but "loaf," he said and may spend all of the rest of the summer here before taking a plane home.

STATE GETS QUARTER-MILLION TAX

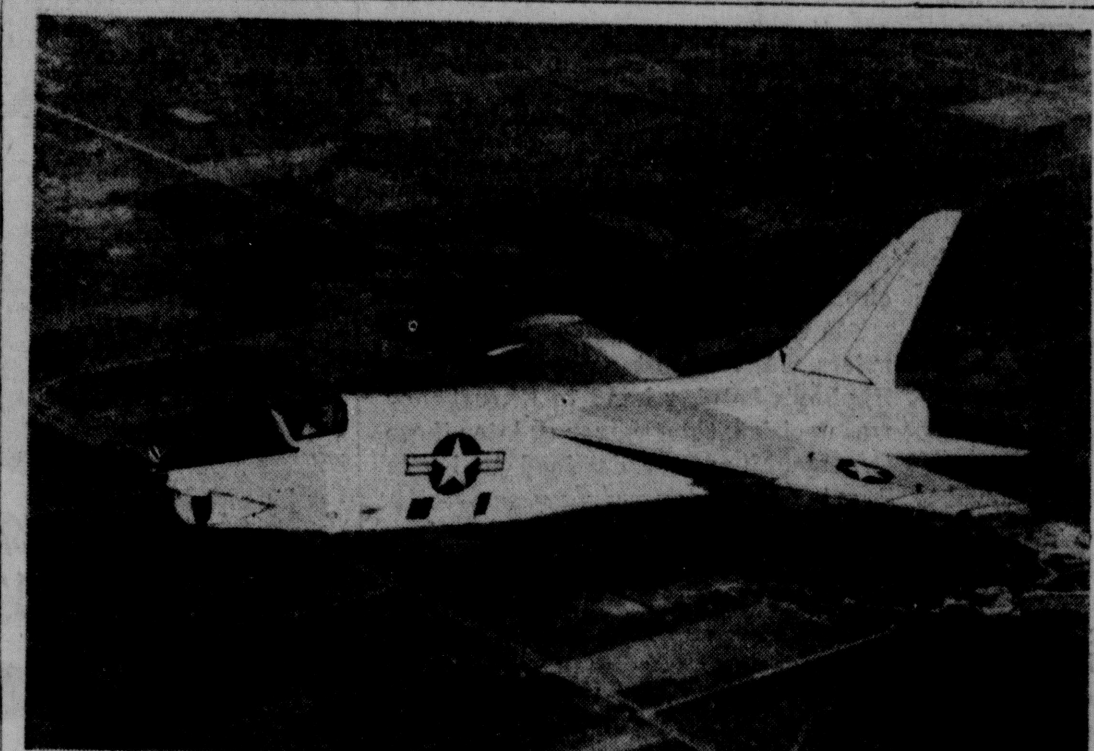

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — The State of Illinois was granted more than one-quarter million dollars Wednesday in inheritance taxes on the estate of Charles Deere.

Judge Lawrence Phares of Rock Island County signed an order setting the actual tax at $256,185 on a net estate of $5,602,073.

Wiman, who died May 12, 1955, left a gross estate of $7,738,612 from which deductions of $2,571,572 were allowed for debts and administrative expenses.

Several Changes Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats Wednesday accused President Eisenhower of blowing hot and cold on the civil rights bill as the Senate began its second round of debate on the hotly disputed measure.

Several major changes in the legislation were proposed as the debate rolled along.

Eisenhower appeared to have opened the door to a North-South compromise on part of Section 3 of the legislation, the controversial section which would empower the attorney general to enforce civil rights by seeking federal injunctions.

At a news conference, the President replied "no" when he was asked:

"Are you convinced that it would be a wise extension of federal power at this stage to permit the attorney general to bring suits on his own motion, to enforce school integration in the South?"

Indicates Favor

The President indicated he would favor such action only upon "request from local authorities."

The present bill would permit the attorney general, on his own motion, to start suits for federal injunctions to prevent violations of civil rights. Violators of such injunctions could be punished by federal judges, without jury trial.

The President's news conference remarks moved Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) to tell the Senate: "It's a very embarrassing position if the President has pulled the rug out from under us."

Douglas Remarks

Douglas, who supports the bill pretty much as it stands, said that Tuesday night Eisenhower appeared committed to hold on to Section 3 but that press reports Wednesday indicate he has changed his position.

If that's the case, Douglas said, he favors extensive debate to educate the President on the full meaning of Section 3 in hope that from under us."

President Rejects Idea Of Using Troops To Enforce Integration

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday rejected any idea of ever using federal troops to enforce school integration.

"I can't imagine any set of circumstances that would ever induce me to send federal troops into any area to enforce the orders of a federal court," he said, "because I believe that common sense of America will never require it."

Southerners fighting the administration's civil rights bill in the Senate have objected it could mean the use of troops, as in Reconstruction days.

Eisenhower, at his news conference, opened the way for a possible compromise on the bill. A reporter asked whether he believed the attorney general should be empowered to initiate injunction suits to enforce school integration.

The President replied "no"—not without a request from "local authorities."

The present bill would permit the attorney general, on his own motion, to ask federal courts to issue injunctions to prevent violations or threatened violations of a wide range of civil rights.

Southerners have protested that the President's position would not be affected by the current action.

Clarence A. Linn of Los Angeles, assistant attorney general, said the two are the "major and responsible officials of the corporation."

Cox and Kable were indicted in May along with Robert Harrison, owner and publisher of Confidential and Whisper, on charges they conspired to print and publish libelous and obscene material. Kable is president and Cox is vice president and sales manager of the printing firm. Extradition of Harrison and several others will be sought next Tuesday at Albany, N.Y., Linn said.

He said the two houses, in a fashionable section of Kensington, Md., a suburb of Washington, cost $5,000. Valente's $42,500 and Klenert's $32,500. They did not pay the full price in cash, he said, because they assumed existing mortgages on the homes.

Quigley testified that the two men early in May 1952 gave him a union check for $95,000. He said he was told to hold the money in escrow "for the purchase of real estate" which wasn't specified at the time.

A few days later, he said, they told him to buy the two houses and to "use what was necessary" out of the $95,000. They "only needed about $37,000," Quigley said, because they assumed the debts.

The witness conceded under questioning that "it could have" required the entire $95,000 to buy the homes had the mortgages not been assumed.

Asked about the escrow arrangement, Quigley said, "It's not usual and it's not unusual." He said he never handled any other real estate transaction "exactly that way."

The senator said the committee may be able to show that, in raising money for repayment, Valente and Klenert "approached officers of companies that have contracts with their unions."

McClellan said also the committee will check into whether Klenert used more than $40,000 of union money to make personal purchases for himself, his family and friends.

Illinois Officials Of Confidential Fight Extradition

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Two officials of a Mount Morris, Ill., firm that prints Confidential magazine Wednesday sought to avoid extradition to California under conspiracy charges there.

News From Area Scouts

At Valley Forge Jamboree
By SCOUT DAVID BOYLE

Troop 8, consisting mostly of Jacksonville boys arrived at Jamboree site, Valley Forge on July 10 and moved into Section 36 and began to set up camp. We were 20 among some 40,000 other boys and leaders arriving that day.

Our tents and baggage arrived late and we were late getting camp set up but everyone was able to sleep under canvas for the first time as a Jamboree Scout.

July 11, our second day at camp, was spent in readying up our camp site, building tables and drawing equipment. Also on this day the rest of the Scouts arrived and began the task of setting up camp sites.

July 12 was Official Opening of Jamboree. Highlight of the day was the big Arena Show Friday evening when Vice President Nixon was the speaker. Following the pageant, "Valley Forge Story," a gigantic fire works display was the outstanding concluding event and thoroughly enjoyed by the 53,000 boys and nearly as many visitors.

Saturday, July 14, many visitors help swell the Valley Forge State Park in visiting sons, relatives and just sight seeing.

Most of the boys attended the live television show in the big arena from 12 noon to 1 p.m. Big Top TV show was presented from the large arena stage, incidentally this stage compares in size to a football field.

Saturday evening Region 7, which is the largest of the regions some 7,500 boys attended the Region Campfire with guests including Walter O'Keefe, Otto Graham, Indiana Scout Band and other stars such as the Harmonic Rascals and a crack Drum and Bugle Corps.

Sunday, July 14, this place is jumping with visitors already and most of the patrols are still cleaning up after breakfast.

Highlight for today will be church service when 30,000 Protestants will assemble in the arena for mass services. Other faiths will be having services in smaller groups.

This brings everything up to date for now.

DODGE outperforms
"other two" low-priced trucks!

CERTIFIED TEST PHOTO

They're off! All three low-priced trucks are lined up at the bottom of a test grade equal to the steepest hill in San Francisco. The flag drops, and this grueling test of climbing power is officially underway. Dodge takes an early lead.

Halfway up. The extra V-8 power under the hood of the Dodge sends it quickly ahead. It's already two lengths out front. And there's a 1000-lb. test load on each one of these comparably equipped trucks. What's more, Dodge is still gaining!

Dodge flashes past the finish five lengths ahead of competition. Truck "C" and truck "F" just couldn't match that 204-hp. Power Giant. And this is just one of a rugged series of tests that prove Dodge is best of the low-priced three.

● Your Dodge truck dealer has proof that Dodge leads in many ways. Come in... see other certified test-photo sequences... and take a demonstration ride!

a message from Mary

HI
We are really excited here at the studio this week. Why? Well, come Friday, Mr. H. J. Christy, Manager of the Portrait Advertising Department, of Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester, New York is coming to spend a couple of days with Bill. Mr. Christy is editor of "Studio Light," a professional magazine published by the Eastman Company and sent to all professional photographers in the country. He is coming to visit Bill to get material for a story he plans to use in the "Studio Light" and it is to be about Bill and our studio. Mr. Christy has purchased more of Bill's fine portraits to use in Eastman Kodak national advertising than from any other photographer in the country.

How often after it is too late, is said "I'd give anything for a picture of him." That is why it is so important that you regularly have portraits made and especially so of the children. Capture each year in a professional portrait by a professional photographer.
Many parents in this locality plan to bring their children in to us every summer and take advantage of the low prices during the baby contest. If you aren't doing this, why not start this year. For instance, in ten years you could have a wonderful album of portraits—ten beautiful 8x10's of your child—a priceless record yet the cost would be unbelievably low—at the present going rate it would cost you only $20.

The baby contest is going over bigger than ever before—already 27 towns are represented plus four states and over 150 entries so far. But it is no wonder. How can you beat a deal like we offer. A beautiful 8x10 portrait just for the price of the entry fee—$2. Plus reduced prices should you want to order more for gifts. As you know, any child from infancy up to 10 may be photographed at these special reduced prices but only those up to six are eligible for the $448. cash value in prizes.

Why don't you plan to enter your children soon. Come down any afternoon between the hours of 1:30 and 5 or if you prefer make a morning appointment. Remember, though, you must have appointments for morning sittings. Why? We like to keep the mornings free so Bill will have time to do all the other steps required in making fine portraits—such as retouching, developing, printing and so forth. We will not take any sittings this Friday morning or Friday evening.
Please make a note of this. Bill and I will attend the Illinois Photographers Association Convention in Chicago July 27, 28, 29, and 30th. NO SITTINGS WILL BE MADE DURING THIS TIME. HOPE YOU WILL ENTER OUR CONTEST SOON AND IF YOU DO, I'LL

Be seeing you

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—The National Boxing Association, led by Chairman Julius Helfand of the New York commission, is upset about Floyd Patterson putting the slug on Lt. Pete Rademacher, an amateur, in Seattle on Aug. 22.

Cus D'Amato, manager of Patterson, is miffed about the Rademacher innovation getting more publicity than the heavy-weight champion's return match with Hurricane Tommy Jackson at the Polo Grounds, July 29.

Rademacher may be an amateur, you see, but the one-time Washington State linehamer has a professional promoter in Jack Hurley. Despite what boxing's big domes say, Hurley knew that an Olympic champion with a punch wading into the professional titleholder would capture the public's imagination. And that this would be especially true against a young pro champion who has yet to establish himself.

Hurley has virgin country running for him as far as a heavy-weight championship is concerned and Rademacher is a local boy who made good in Melbourne.

Hurley is making the most of the fact that his tiger flattened a big, bad Soviet to scale the Olympic heights.

Newspaper sports desks are already hearing from Rademacher rooters. The letters come from the peanut growers in Georgia, who supposedly put up the $250,000 guarantee for Patterson. Rademacher convinced them that he was good enough while stationed in the Army there. The letters come from Army buddies of the 29-year-old Pete, who talks even a better fight than he made in Australia.

"You don't suppose this L. Moukine, who Rademacher knocked out, was an amateur, do you?" they read. "Don't you know that all Red athletes are subsidized? There are no amateurs in Russia, so Moukine actually was the professional champion of a tremendous amount of territory. Knocking him out makes Pete champion of all that vast land and richly entitles him to the crack at Patterson and the world championship."

Another smart step by Hurley was getting Rocky Marciano to coach Rademacher, both at Columbus, Ga., and Issaquah, Wash., where the balding "challenger" will finish his preparation. Hurley already has the old champion saying that Rademacher has more than a chance.

Meanwhile, Manager D'Amato continues his verbal war on the International Boxing Club instead of building up Floyd Patterson and helping to get Emil Lence, the new promoter, off the hook.

The way things look now, Cus D'Amato may have done the IBC a favor when he took the Patterson-Jackson return off its hands. Jim Norris would not have gone to the expense of putting it on outdoors, however, for the show drew no more than 11,255 paid admissions and a gross of $66,038 at Madison Square Garden when the feud was fresh.

Stoneham: Giants Will Probably Be Calling San Francisco Home

By EDMOND LE BRETON
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants told Congress Wednesday the team will likely be calling San Francisco home next year, if all goes well. He hinted strongly that neighboring Oakland is also a possibility.

Stoneham said he already has reached agreement for piping closed circuit telecasts of home games into private dwellings in the San Francisco area.

He said that under an agreement with Skiatron television, pay as you see telecasts could be undertaken either in New York or San Francisco. But he added that the closed circuit idea wouldn't work in New York.

If the Giants don't move to San Francisco soon, he said, somebody else may get in ahead of them. Stoneham said he understood feelers have gone out to such other clubs as Cleveland, Kansas City and Baltimore.

Looking a bit farther ahead, Rep. Price (D., Ill.) offered his "own personal idea" that in 5 to 10 years the big leagues will be 10-club organizations with new outposts in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Miami and Houston.

The House Antitrust subcommittee took a look at the changing face of baseball as it resumed hearings on the antitrust aspects of professional sports.

Stoneham said he expects to have a definite proposal from Mayor George Christopher and other San Francisco leaders not later than early September and, if it is reasonable, he will recommend it to the directors of the family-owned Giants.

As for the agreement with Skiatron, he said the contemplated closed-circuit broadcasts according to estimates would yield about $125,000 a game with 400,000 to 500,000 sets hooked in.

He conceded there is some uncertainty in view of estimates in San Francisco that the pay TV system might cost up to 60 million dollars and require as much as four years to install.

Tentative talks with San Francisco, Stoneham said, have brought out assurances of five million dollars, available for a stadium and a similar amount more available if needed. The stadium would be rented on a percentage basis geared to admissions.

Rep. Price, a former sports writer and editor who said he was testifying "as a fan," urged the subcommittee not to impose antitrust laws on baseball or interfere with operation of the reserve clause binding a player to the club that signs him.

He said baseball is not the sort of business for which antitrust laws were written, that "baseball players are not seriously exploited and slave-driven," and that "the general level of major league pay is not indecent."

Collegiate Grid All-Stars Begin Practice Thursday

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—A squad of 49 collegiate aces of the 1936 season will assemble at Northwestern University Thursday to begin girding for the 24th annual All-Star Football Game at Chicago's Soldier Field on Aug. 9.

After being outfitted Thursday, the collegiate huskies Friday will get down to business with three weeks of intensive drills on tap before they collide with the champion New York Giants of the National Football League.

For the third consecutive year, E. L. (Curly) Lambeau, former NFL coach and founder of the Green Bay Packers, will direct the All-Star. Lambeau's Stars defeated the Cleveland Browns, 30-27, in 1935 and last year lost to the Browns, 26-0.

Lambeau's staff includes men well-versed in pro play, including Hearley (Hunk) Anderson, former Chicago Bear line coach, and four former stars of the play-for-pay ranks. Otto Graham, Tony Canadeo, Don Doll and Don Pula.

The hand-picked collegiate squad is packed with beef to meet the expected pounding of the pros. No fewer than 13 of the All-Star linemen weigh 230 or better, headed by three 265-pounders, tackle Wayne Bock of Illinois, center Joe Amstutz of Indiana, and tackle Earl Leggett of Louisiana State.

Lambeau has both quality and quantity at quarterback with such fine passing field generals as Paul Hornung of Notre Dame, and John Brodie of Stanford. Ken Ploen of Iowa, Len Dawson of Purdue and Jim Harris of Oklahoma.

Mussato Wins Match, Advances To 4th Round

CHICAGO (AP)—Harry Mussato, golf coach at Western Illinois State, and two other former champions Wednesday led survivors through the fourth round of the 53rd annual City Amateur Golf Tournament at Jackson Park.

Biggest upset of the day was scored by Carl Ahrens of Janesville who ousted Art Arquilla Jr. of Chicago, a prime favorite, 6 and 5.

Mussato, winner of the 1933 title, trimmed Paul Quinn of Chicago 4 and 3. Bob Sederberg of Chicago, 1935 champion, and Eddie Kleitke of Chicago, the 1941 winner, also advanced.

Mike Spinnello, a Northern Illinois State College student, also remained in the running. James Waring of Ottawa was among the downcasters defeated. He lost 4 and 3 to Al Barkow of Chicago.

Double rounds will be held Thursday and Friday. The 36-hole finals are Saturday.

FIGHT RESULTS

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Joe Giardello, the nation's third-ranking middleweight, won a unanimous decision over Chico Vejar in their 10-round, nationally televised fight at the Fairgrounds Coliseum Wednesday night.

Vejar, a 1-4 underdog, was unmarked at the finish but Giardello was bleeding profusely from a cut over his right eye opened in the fifth round.

The winner, who celebrated his 27th birthday Tuesday, said he hoped it will move him closer to a title fight with champion Ray Robinson. Robinson, however, still has to settle his differences with welter-weight Carmen Basile.

Braves Capture Rhubarb-Flavored Tilt From Phils

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves erupted for five runs in the seventh inning and routed the Philadelphia Phillies out of first place, with a 10-3 victory in a rhubarb-flavored game at Connie Mack Stadium Wednesday night. The win put the Braves in second place, one percentage point behind St. Louis which beat Brooklyn, 7-3, and dropped the Phillies to third in the see-saw National League race.

The crowd of 24,596 was barely in its seats when a first inning argument, punctuated by a barrage of beer cans from the stands, delayed action 18 minutes and prompted the Phillies to play the game under protest.

Robin Roberts, Philadelphia starting pitcher, was ejected and had to be restrained from charging umpire Jocko Conlan. Roberts had hurled a scoreless first inning. The Braves went on to pound five Philadelphia pitchers for 13 hits including four in the big seventh which with a double error by Phillies shortstop Chico Fernandez produced the five runs.

The big debate came when with one out in the Phillies' half of the first inning, Gran Hamner on second and Eddie Bouchee on first, Rip Repulski hit a soft liner to short. Johnny Logan took it on the first bounce and threw it to Red Schoendienst at second for the force on Bouchee. Hamner held second but the umpires ruled he was tagged out when he made a belated try for third.

Roberts had to be restrained by Phillies manager Mayo Smith and the umpires from getting to Conlan after he was ejected. It was at this point the beer cans began to fly from the stands. The ground crew had to clear the field of debris before the game could be resumed.

Hank Aaron, the National League's leading hitter, boosted his average—with a double and his singles in four trips to the plate. Aaron knocked in one run and scored three times.

Fischer Preserves 3-1 Win For Pale Hose In Relief Over Orioles

CHICAGO (AP)—Rookie Bill Fischer put down a ninth inning Baltimore uprising Wednesday to save a 3-1 victory for the Chicago White Sox and Bob Keegan. It was the 35-year-old Keegan's fifth straight triumph.

Keegan had held the Orioles to four hits in the first seven innings but yielded a run in the eighth. Al Pilarcik and Joe Ginsberg, the first two batters in the ninth, singled. Jim Busby forced Pilarcik on a sacrifice attempt. Here Fischer stepped in to strike out George Kell and get pinch batter Gus Triandos on a short fly to left center.

Keegan singled off Bill Wight in the fourth inning to drive home Bubba Phillips, who had beaten out a bunt and reached second on a sacrifice. Those hits were two of the six the Sox made off the Orioles' southpaw during his seven innings on the mound. Ken Lehman retired the Sox in order in the eighth.

Wight walked seven men, three of them in the first inning. Aparicio, who drew the first pass, scored while Phillips was being thrown out. Another walk, this one to Earl Torgeson, led to the third Chicago run in the seventh. Torgeson advanced while Minnie Minsos was grounding out to the pitcher.

An error by Sam Esposito on Tito Francona's grounder helped the Orioles to an unearned run in the eighth.

Birdie Apologizes To Every Pitcher In National Loop

BY JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Birdie Tebbets, volatile manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, apologized Wednesday to every pitcher in the National League for having charged earlier that they were deliberately throwing at Frank Robinson, his star left fielder, "because he is a Negro."

Robinson, rookie-of-the-year last season, was hit in the left temple by a ball thrown by Ruben Gomez, Puerto Rican right-hander of the New York Giants Tuesday night. Birdie, angered by a series of injuries to his key players, said after the game:

"There is no question in my mind that they throw at Robinson because he's colored and he is at a disadvantage because he can't fight back."

"You don't see Stan Musial, Duke Snider or Ted Kluszewski going down like this kid

Ted Fairburn Speaker For Winchester Kiwanians

He pointed out that radio and television had made great strides in the field of news coverage during the past few years. He stated that with the advent of television many people thought that the radio industry was on the wane. He said that some adjustments had become necessary because of popularity of television but that there were now more radio stations than ever before and that the total income of radio stations was at the highest level in history.

He stated that radio stations were now doing more on the local level and that independent rather than network operation was now most profitable. He said that many new devices in the technological field have helped radio make tape recordings which make possible the presentation of news by the people who make the news.

He related many interesting incidents which have been covered by his station and explained the important part that local radio stations play in disasters and in the national and civil defense work. Mr. Fairburn concluded his remarks with a question and answer period.

Allen McCullough, president, was in charge of the program and introduced the speaker.
